CHAIR'S MESSAGE

I am pleased to report that over the past year, the Landlord and Tenant Board (the Board) has continued to function well as an adjudicative tribunal.

I am grateful to the Board Members and staff who work together closely as a team in fulfilling the LTB's dual mandate of providing information to landlords and tenants about their rights and obligations and providing dispute resolution through mediation and adjudication, in a manner consistent with the Board service principles of fairness, accessibility, customer focus and timeliness. Together these principles underscore the effectiveness of the Board. The focus of the Board is to ensure that these principles are incorporated at every step in the execution of its mandate without fettering the independent decision-making power of the Board Members.

Last year we saw the departure of Diana Macri, our Director of Operations. We are grateful to her contribution to the Board for the past 10 years. We welcomed Laura Bryce, our first Chief Operating Officer, who joined the Board on August 31, 2009. A strategic planning session was held in November 2009 which resulted in the development of a three-year Operational Plan, thanks to Laura's leadership and vision. The plan sets out three operational goals that the Board will work toward: service excellence, organizational excellence, as well as agency accountability and fiscal integrity.

The Board accomplished a number of important initiatives last year, aimed at enhancing service to its clients. These initiatives include: strategies to improve the handling of cases on the hearing day; electronic hearing pilot project; implementation of a new case management system (Cmore); implementation of the Human Rights Strategy with the development of a policy on Accessibility and Human Rights and the release of an Interpretation Guideline on Human Rights; and online publication of redacted orders by the Canadian Legal Information Institute (CanLII) as well as on the Board's website. For more information about these initiatives, please refer to the "Year in Review" section of this report.

My appreciation and thanks go to the Board's Vice Chairs, Regional Managers, the Program Development Unit and Legal Services Branch. They played an important role in various committees and in the policy and training work they do for the Board.

I also acknowledge the valuable support of my Executive Assistant, Suzanne Evans, and my Administrative Assistant, Sue Woodland, for the excellent coordination of the many tasks of the Chair's office.

I sincerely thank stakeholders from the landlord and tenant communities for their valuable feedback and input. The on-going dialogue between the Board and stakeholder representatives at our Stakeholder Advisory Committee meetings ensures that the views of both landlord and tenant groups are given the necessary attention in the development of procedures, forms, Rules of Practice and Interpretation Guidelines.

In closing, I acknowledge the valuable contribution of two Board Members who passed away last year. The Board was saddened by the death of Christopher (Chip) Trueman on April 22, 2009 and Dan Helsberg on May 20, 2009.

Sincerely,

Lilian Ma, Ph.D., LL.B
Chair and CEO
Landlord and Tenant Board

YEAR IN REVIEW

In 2009-2010, the Board continued to deliver its services to Ontario landlords and tenants by providing information on their respective rights and obligations and resolving disputes filed as applications to the Board. To deal with the volume of applications, the Board focussed its attention on opportunities for enhancing service delivery, particularly with regard to its case management practices. Also during the past year, a significant portion of the Board's resources was dedicated to the implementation of Cmore, the new case management system, first launched in April 2009.

Case Management Strategies

In the Board's busy urban offices, hearings are conducted simultaneously in more than one hearing room. While there are regional variations, and some hearing blocks are devoted to hearing previously-adjourned or complex matters, a typical 3-hour hearing block can contain 20-30 cases, many of which are uncontested on the day of the hearing. Members have generally managed the blocks by dealing with simple matters first, such as requests for withdrawals, adjournments, consent or uncontested cases. However, this can result in longer wait-times for parties who are ready to be heard. At times, this can lead to adjournments for those cases heard later in the block.

Highlights:

- Case Management Strategies
- Electronic Hearings Pilot Project
- New Case Management System
- New Chief Operating Officer
- Accessibility and Human Rights at the Board
- Redacted Board Orders

Over the past year, the Board experimented with various approaches to scheduling hearings and managing hearing blocks in those offices that handle the higher volume and more complex cases, namely, in the Toronto North and Toronto South offices. The goal of the exercise was to triage the cases for efficiency, thus allowing the Members sufficient time to deal with more complex cases. In the latest approach that has been adopted, all L1 and L9¹ applications are scheduled to be heard in one hearing room while other more complex matters are scheduled in another.

The Board has received positive feedback from stakeholders about their hearing day experience as a result of these changes. In the coming year, the Board will continue to explore the potential benefit of further changes to scheduling practices to facilitate better hearing day management.

Electronic Hearings Pilot Project

In 2009, the LTB introduced a six-month pilot project to test the expanded use of telephone and videoconference technologies for mediation and hearings in a few locations across the province. The Board has used teleconference and videoconference hearings widely in northern Ontario for a number of years; therefore it was anticipated that this initiative would allow the Board to provide more timely service in the pilot areas and improve accessibility.

YEAR IN REVIEW

The areas in which the pilot projects were implemented were the counties of Bruce, Grey, Haldimand/Norfolk and Huron for telephone hearings. Face-to-face hearings were held where telephone hearings were not appropriate. Videoconference hearings were piloted in the district of Thunder Bay.

The Board is in the process of reviewing the result of these pilots and the feedback from stakeholders, and will be deciding how electronic hearings can best be used as an effective tool for the Board in achieving its service principles of fairness, accessibility, customer focus and timeliness.

New Case Management System

In late April 2009, the Board launched Cmore, a new Oracle Siebel case management system, for all applications (except for Above Guideline Increase (AGI) applications) to replace the Evans CaseLoad system, in order to assist in managing the Board's workload. The Board used a phased approach to implement Cmore, running Cmore and CaseLoad concurrently, and gradually processed an increased number of applications with the new system.

Early in 2010, the initial transitional issues had been largely overcome. The Board completed its transition to Cmore on March 31, 2010 with no backlog situation. The patience and understanding of the Board's clients who had coped with longer than usual wait-times at front counters during the transition is very much appreciated. The Board will continue to leverage this new technology to serve its clients better.

New Chief Operating Officer

Effective August 31, 2009, Laura Bryce became the first Chief Operating Officer for the Board. Ms Bryce has a proven track record over the last 30 years with the Ontario Public Service including a number of strategic leadership and business transformation roles that will serve the Board well.

Accessibility and Human Rights at the Board

The Board provides its services in accordance with the Ontario Human Rights Code (the Code), the Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2001 (the ODA) and the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 (the AODA).

The Board is fully compliant with the Customer Service Standard established under the AODA. The Customer Service Standard includes ensuring that policies, practices and procedures are in place with regard to providing Board services to people with disabilities, having a feedback mechanism about the accessibility of Board services and ensuring that Board staff and Members receive training about providing services to people with disabilities.

In October 2009, the Board published its Human Rights Guideline as part of the Board's overall Human Rights Strategy to address its obligations under the Human Rights Code (the Code). The Guideline addresses various Code issues that may arise in a Board proceeding. The Board consulted with members of the Stakeholder Advisory Committee and the Ontario Human Rights Commission in developing the Guideline.

YEAR IN REVIEW

In November 2009, the Board launched its Policy on Accessibility and Human Rights. The Policy sets out what the Board has done to ensure clients can access its services without barriers, how clients can make a request for accommodation in regards to their needs under the Code, how clients can give feedback on the Board's provision of services, and how the Board will train staff and Members on the obligations arising from the Code and the AODA.

Redacted Board Orders

As reported in the 2008-2009 annual report, the Board has been posting redacted orders on its website to provide the public with transparency of its decisions. Redacted orders are orders from which information has been removed to protect the privacy of individuals named in the order, having regard to the provisions of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.

Furthermore, the Canadian Legal Information Institute (CanLII) has established an online database for redacted Landlord and Tenant Board orders. CanLII has already posted a number of Board orders issued starting in September 2009, and will continue to add new orders to its database at the rate of 200 orders per month. The CanLII website is at www.canlii.org.

Summaries of Board selected decisions will continue to be posted on the LTB website. Selected decisions are decisions chosen by a committee of the Board. These decisions are not binding on Members of the Board, nor are they intended to reflect the official position of the Board on how to interpret or apply the law. These decisions are also sent to CanLII and Quicklaw for posting. In general, only contested orders are chosen for posting.

THE ROLE OF THE BOARD

Section 1 of the Residential Tenancies Act, 2006 (the RTA) sets out the purposes of the Act, as follows:

- provide protection for residential tenants from unlawful rent increases and unlawful evictions;
- establish a framework for the regulation of residential rent;
- balance the rights and responsibilities of residential landlords and tenants; and,
- provide for the adjudication of disputes and for other processes to informally resolve disputes.

Dual Mandate

The RTA, which establishes the Landlord and Tenant Board, confers a dual mandate on the Board.

First, the LTB exercises a quasi-judicial function under subsection 168(2) of the RTA, which provides that the Board has jurisdiction to determine all applications under the RTA, and section 174, which provides the Board with the authority to hear and determine all questions of law and fact with respect to all matters within its jurisdiction under the RTA.

Second, pursuant to section 177 of the RTA, the LTB is required to give information to landlords and tenants about their rights and obligations.

Mission Statement

The Board has adopted the following Mission Statement: The mission of the Landlord and Tenant Board is to inform landlords and tenants about their rights and responsibilities under the Residential Tenancies Act and provide balanced and timely dispute resolution in accordance with the law.

Section 183 of the RTA mandates the Board to adopt the most expeditious method of determining the questions arising in a proceeding which affords parties an adequate opportunity to know the issues and to be heard on the matter.

" The mission of the Landlord and Tenant Board is to inform landlords and tenants about their rights and responsibilities under the Residential Tenancies Act and provide balanced and timely dispute resolution in accordance with the law" .

THE ADJUDICATION PROCESS

The LTB handles a large volume of cases, resulting from the significant number of renters in Ontario (approximately 29% of Ontario's households²). The Board strives to ensure that its application resolution process meets both efficiency and quality service objectives. When the LTB receives an application, the parties are entitled to a hearing before a Board Member who will decide the outcome in accordance with the law.

Application Types

Applications filed with the Board are classified on a "case type" basis. (Applications by Type are listed on page 17.) The bulk of the Board's workload consists of applications from landlords to terminate the tenancy and evict the tenant for non-payment of rent and to collect arrears of rent (Application Form L1). The most common tenant application is an application about tenant rights (Application Form T2), dealing with such issues as illegal entry and interference with reasonable enjoyment of the rental unit. Another type of application the Board handles is a landlord's application for an above-guideline rent increase (Application Form L5), which often involves multiple tenants.

Average Processing Times

The Board tracks the length of time from the filing of an application to the initial hearing date for these applications, and the time from the final hearing date to the date the order is issued.

These statistics on timelines generally correspond to the complexity of the application types.

On average, L1 applications will have their hearing scheduled within four to five weeks of their filing date, and will have an order issued within three days of the final hearing. T2 applications, which tend to be more complex, will typically be heard within six to eight weeks of their filing date, and will have an order issued within seven days of the final hearing. L5 applications (for above-guideline rent increases) generally involve the lengthiest processes and as a result tend to be heard 20 to 22 weeks after their application was filed, and have an order issued within three weeks after the hearing.

Board Decisions

All Board Members are independent decision-makers who have the exclusive authority to make decisions in accordance with the Residential Tenancies Act, 2006 (the RTA) and the Statutory Powers Procedure Act (the SPPA), an Act that governs the practice and procedures at the Board. A decision can only be changed by way of review filed under the Board's Rules of Practice, or by way of appeal on a question of law to the Superior Court of Justice (Divisional Court).

² The population of Ontario was approximately 12 million at the time of the 2006 Census (Statistics Canada).

THE ADJUDICATION PROCESS

Reviews and Appeals

A party to an application may ask for a review of a Board order if they believe that the order contains a serious error or that a serious error occurred in the proceedings, including where a party was not reasonably able to participate in the proceeding.

The authority for requesting a review comes from section 21.2 of the SPPA, subsection 209(2) of the RTA, and Rule 29 of the Board's Rules of Practice. The Rules also allow a Vice Chair of the Board to initiate a review.

A review of a Board order is decided by a Member other than the Member who heard the application and issued the order. When a review request is filed with the Board, a Member conducts a preliminary review without holding a hearing, to determine whether or not the order may contain a serious error or a serious error may have occurred in the proceedings. Where the Member determines that there is a possibility of a serious error affecting the result of the case, a review hearing will be held. Otherwise, the Member will dismiss the request for review.

Section 210 of the RTA also provides that any person affected by a Board order may appeal the order to the Divisional Court within 30 days after being given the order, but only on a question of law.

Board Member Appointments

Board Members, appointed by Orders-in-Council, perform the function of adjudicators of applications filed with the LTB.

Members are selected from a list of qualified candidates who have applied to the Public Appointments Secretariat. They undergo a rigorous and competitive interview and selection process and, based on the results of the interview process, the Chair will make recommendations to the Minister in regard to their appointments. The Minister makes a recommendation to the Cabinet who decides on the appointment.

Once Members are appointed to the Board, they receive training from the Board to become adjudicators. The initial training period, which spans a number of weeks, incorporates classroom instruction, hearing room observation, participation in mock hearings and mentoring from an experienced Member or Vice Chair. New Members are also paired up with other experienced Members in their early hearing room assignments. The training provided by the Board, augmented by the Members' previous experience and knowledge, prepares them to deal proficiently with the issues that come before them.

While most Members are on full-time appointments, there are also some part-time Members. All Members report to the Chair of the Board through a regional Vice Chair, and are located in different areas of the province as the Board has eight offices to facilitate regional representation and service delivery.

THE ADJUDICATION PROCESS

Professional Development

Members from across the province meet once a year for professional development. They also meet more frequently in their regions. These meetings provide on-going training and address any emerging issues. The Board's Legal Services Branch also summarizes new case law or legislation that has a direct impact on Members' decision-making and disseminates this information to Members, in the form of legal memos.

A minimum of four days are set aside each year for Members' continuing professional development.

For example, a number of Board Members were able to attend the November 2009 Conference of Ontario Boards and Agencies (COBA), the major annual conference on administrative justice, organized by the Society of Ontario Adjudicators and Regulators (SOAR).

At times, Members participate in on-line training to facilitate access. For example, E-learning modules, developed by the Ontario Public Service, Centre for Leadership and Learning, to assist staff and Members in interacting with people with disabilities, were completed by all Board Members in 2009-2010. A professional development committee headed by a Vice Chair oversees ongoing educational opportunities for the Members.

Rule and Guideline Making

Rule and Guideline-making are mandated by section 176 of the RTA. Although Board Members are independent decision-makers, the Board has an interest in achieving consistency and coherence in decision-making. To encourage this, the Board has codified a general interpretation of some aspects of the RTA in its Interpretation Guidelines and its procedures into Rules of Practice.

Rules of Practice set out procedural rules that must be followed. While a Member may waive certain rules in appropriate circumstances, some rules have a non-waiver provision. Interpretation Guidelines, on the other hand, are not binding on Members in their decision-making, but they should generally be followed unless there is valid reason not to do so. Members must provide reasons for waiving a rule or not following a guideline. The LTB's Rules and Guidelines are available to the public so that parties know what to expect when they come before the Board.

The Board has adopted the following process as a means of elevating an issue to the point of requiring rule or guideline-making. Issues may be identified from discussions held at regional Members' meetings, or by the Board's Legal Services Branch (LSB) or Program Development Unit (PDU), or from discussions with stakeholders. These issues are first presented and discussed at "roundtables" of Vice Chairs. In many cases, the Vice Chairs elicit feedback from their Members before coming to the roundtable forum, to ensure the Members' opinions can be taken into consideration.

THE ADJUDICATION PROCESS

When there is consensus or a preferred position is reached with respect to an issue by the Vice Chairs, with the input of LSB and PDU, the matter may be referred to the Rules and Guidelines Committee for the development of a new or revised Rule or Guideline. Then, before new or revised Rules and Guidelines are finalized, they are sent to members of the Board's Stakeholder Advisory Committee for consultation before finally being adopted by the Rules and Guidelines committee. Finally, once the Rule or Guideline is adopted by the Board, it is posted on the Board's website for the public.

Committee work

Committee work is an important aspect of the work of the board, as it seeks to identify and address important legal and procedural issues in adjudication. Vice Chairs often lead these committees which are constituted of Board Members, staff and counsel from the LSB. Examples of Board committees are: the Rules and Guidelines Committee, the Order Production Group (which facilitates the production of board orders), the Selected Decisions Committee, the Adjudicative Best Practices Committee and the Capacity Committee.

THE MEDIATION PROCESS

The Landlord and Tenant Board employs 21 Mediators throughout the province to provide voluntary mediation services to parties involved in applications before the Board. An application can be resolved through:

- adjudication (an order is signed by a Board Member),
- mediation (an agreement is signed by the parties only), or
- a consent order (an order based on an agreement between the parties is signed by a Member).

How Mediation Works

In mediation, the parties voluntarily work with a Board Mediator to achieve a desired outcome for the parties. An agreement reached by the parties may contain terms outside the limits provided by the legislation. In adjudication, however, the outcome is decided by a Board Member, within the limits of the legislation, based on the evidence and circumstances elicited at the hearing.

If the parties are successful in resolving their dispute through mediation, the Board Mediator will prepare a mediated settlement based on the terms of the parties' agreement. The agreement will be signed by the parties, copies of which are kept by the parties only. The Board does not keep a copy of the agreement. At times, after mediation, parties may choose to come before a Board Member to obtain a consent order based on the terms of their agreement.

Mediation is a valuable tool in the daily work of the Board. The Board anticipates naming a Mediation Team Lead in the near future, to oversee the management and performance of the Mediators at a provincial level. The Team Lead develop protocols, standards and performance measures.

Benefits of Mediation

During the 2009-2010 fiscal year, approximately 48% of all applications where both parties showed up at the hearing were successfully resolved through mediated agreements and/or resulted in consent orders. Mediation continues to be an important and effective non-adversarial method of resolving disputes, helping to save tenancies and reduce social costs, while strengthening the relationships between landlords and tenants.

OFFICE & HEARING LOCATIONS

The Board strives to make its services accessible to Ontarians across the province. The Board has eight offices that offer full services to clients. At those offices, landlords and tenants can file applications and obtain information from one of the Board's Customer Service Officers about their rights and obligations under the law, as well as attend hearings and participate in mediation.

Board Offices

Approximately 70% of Board hearings are held in these eight offices located in:

- Downtown Toronto - (Toronto South Region)
- North York, Toronto (Toronto North Region)
- Scarborough, Toronto (Toronto East-Durham Region)
- Mississauga (Central Region)
- London (Southwest Region)
- Hamilton (Southern Region)
- Ottawa (Eastern Region)
- Sudbury (Northern Region)

Off-site Hearing Locations

There are 33 off-site hearing locations to which Board Members and Mediators travel for hearings on a regular basis. These are: Barrie, Belleville, Bracebridge, Brantford, Brockville, Burlington, Chatham, Cobourg, Cornwall, Goderich, Guelph, Hawkesbury, Kingston, Lindsay, Newmarket, North Bay, Orangeville, Owen Sound, Pembroke, Perth, Peterborough, Port Elgin, Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie, Simcoe, St. Catharines, St. Thomas, Stratford, Thunder Bay, Waterloo, Whitby, Windsor and Woodstock.

Electronic Hearings

There are also a number of locations in the northern parts of the province where the Board regularly holds hearings electronically. For example, in Timmins, hearings can be held by video-conference; in Dryden and Elliot Lake, hearings are held by telephone. The Board can also schedule electronic hearings upon party request where circumstances permit.

ServiceOntario Partnership

The Board has partnered with ServiceOntario in over 70 locations across the province, to distribute forms and brochures, and to receive applications and other documents on behalf of the Board. This partnership helps to improve front counter accessibility for clients throughout the province.

CUSTOMER SERVICE THROUGH THE CALL CENTRE

Early resolution of disputes is important to achieve the Board's Mission. Landlords and tenants can sometimes resolve their disputes once they have been informed about the law.

Section 177 of the RTA sets out the Board's mandate to provide information to landlords and tenants about their rights and obligations under the legislation. In fulfilling this mandate, the Board's virtual Call Centre handles customer inquiries, in both English and French, through toll free lines. In the Greater Toronto Area, the phone number is (416) 645-8080; outside Toronto the number is 1-888-332-3234. Customer Service Officers are available during regular business hours. An automated telephone service answers frequently-asked questions 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. This year, the Board responded to approximately 500,000 telephone calls.

Also, if a landlord or tenant has filed an application with the Board, they can inquire about the status of their case via the telephone.

E GOVERNMENT

The Board's website, www.LTB.gov.on.ca, receives approximately 2.5 million hits each month. All Board forms, the Rules of Practice, Interpretation Guidelines and the Board's complaint procedures are available on the website, in both English and French. The Board's Policy on Accessibility and Human Rights is also available on the website.

Also available on the website is a Guide to the Residential Tenancies Act in Arabic, Chinese, Farsi (Persian), Korean, Punjabi, Russian, Spanish, Tamil, Urdu and Vietnamese³, as well as in English and French. Apart from this Guide, there are over 30 brochures posted on the website providing information on all major aspects of the RTA and the Board's services. Topics include the rent increase guideline, care homes, how to file an application, ending a tenancy, illegal lockouts, Board fees, information about a hearing and information for new tenants.

At the beginning of the fiscal year covered by this report, the Board began phasing in its new case management system, Cmore. After the implementation of Cmore, the Board is now in a position to explore further use of additional functionality in the system as well as eFiling to better meet our client's needs.

The Cmore 'logo'

³ These are the ten most spoken languages, in addition to English and French, in Ontario according to 2001 Census data obtained from Statistics Canada.

FRENCH LANGUAGE SERVICES

The Board provides service to the public in both official languages in accordance with the French Language Services Act (the FLSA). All offices in areas designated by the FLSA have bilingual staff available. The Board's policy concerning the provision of French language services is set out in its Rules of Practice.

Services at Board Hearings

Where a party is entitled to and has requested French language service, the Board attempts to schedule a French-speaking Member to hear the case. Where this is not possible within a reasonable period of time, the Board will schedule the matter before an English-speaking Member and will ensure that an interpreter is present.

About 10% of Board Members can conduct hearings in French, and 5% of its Mediators can provide mediation service in French. Less than 0.4% of Board hearings were conducted in French over the past fiscal year.

All correspondence and decisions of the Board are provided in French to a party who has requested and is entitled to French language services.

BUDGET AND REVENUES

The following table shows the Expenditures and Revenues of the LTB for 2009-10 including actual results, budget and variances.

Vote & Item 1904-03 Residential Tenancy	Budget ($)	Actual ($)	Variance Savings/ (Over-Expenditure) ($)
Operating Expenditure	27,997,521	27,870,772	126,749
Revenue	Not Applicable	11,750,665	Not Applicable

Source of Data: 2009-10 Draft Public Accounts

Note:

The Public Accounts reflect consolidated numbers for the LTB and IEU (the Investigations and Enforcement Unit of the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing). Accordingly, to arrive at LTB numbers, Public Account numbers have been adjusted to remove IEU numbers.

The expenditures for the Board for 2009-10 were $27.87M. Of this, $16.56M was for salaries and wages, $2.40M was for benefits and the remaining $8.91M can be attributed to Other Direct Operating Expenses.

In 2009-10 the LTB successfully met its service delivery performance standards and key deliverables while being able to achieve a savings of $126,749 from its operating expenditure budget.

STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Landlord vs Tenant Receipts

From April 1, 2009 to March 31, 2010, the Board received 78,072 applications filed under the RTA. This represents a decrease of 7,768 applications, which is approximately 9%, compared to the 2008-2009 workload. The decrease appears to correlate with the recent trend toward economic stabilization and recovery in Ontario.

The distribution of application receipts has remained relatively constant since 1998 when the resolution of landlord-tenant disputes was transferred from the provincial court system to the Board's predecessor, the Ontario Rental Housing Tribunal. This past year was no exception, with 91% of applications filed by landlords and 9% filed by tenants.

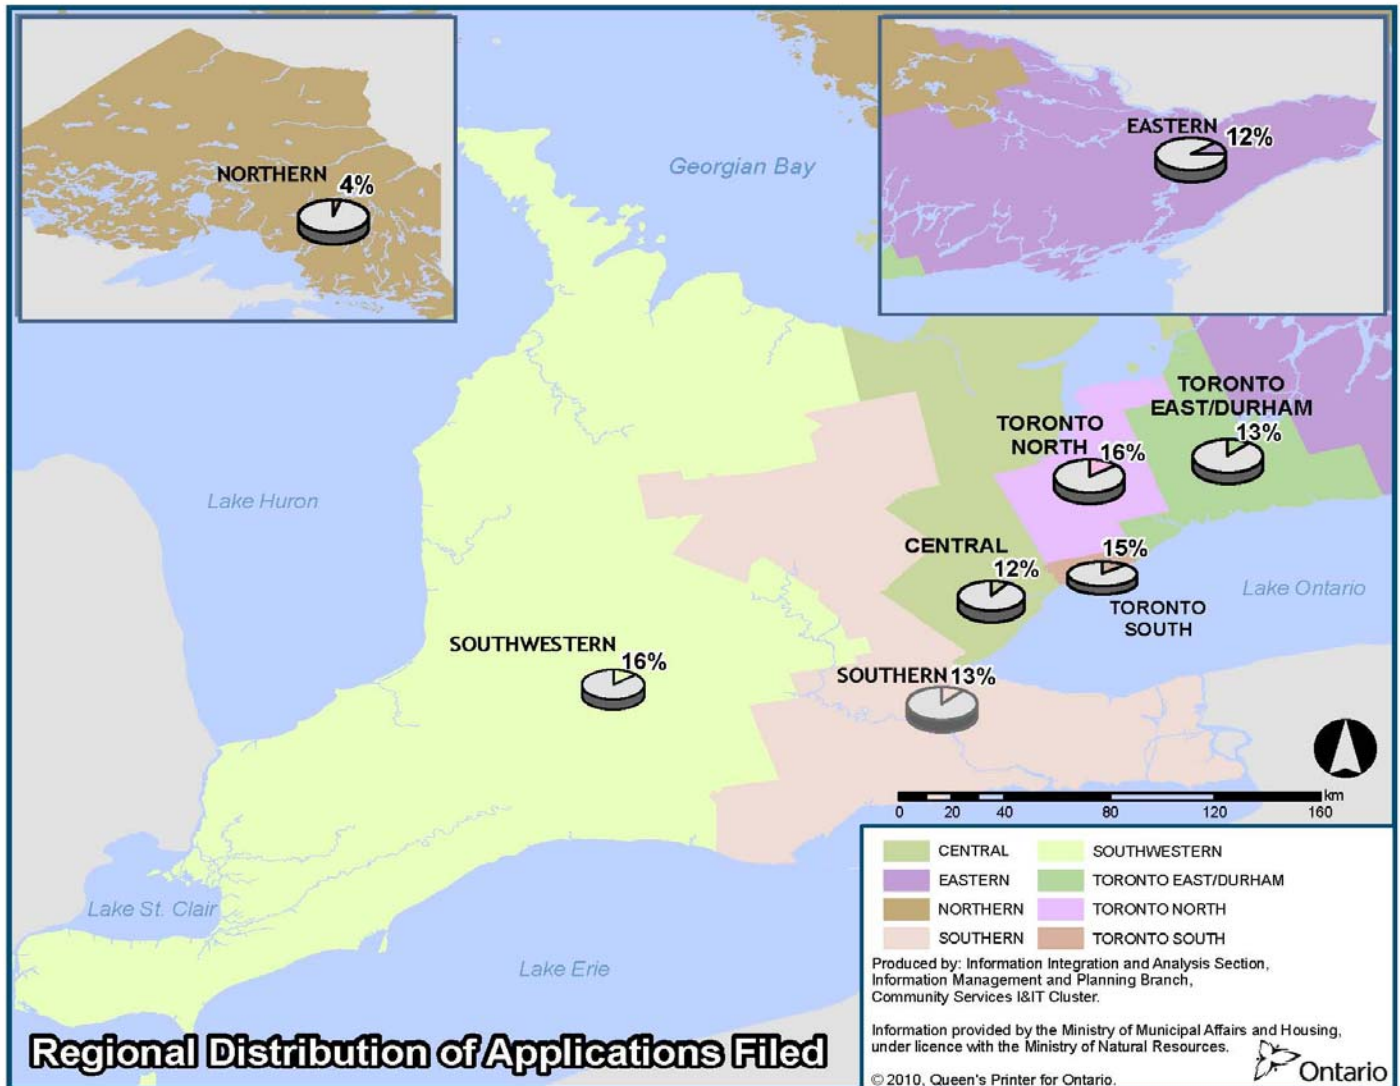

STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Regional Distribution of Applications

The regional distribution of applications filed with the Board is as follows:

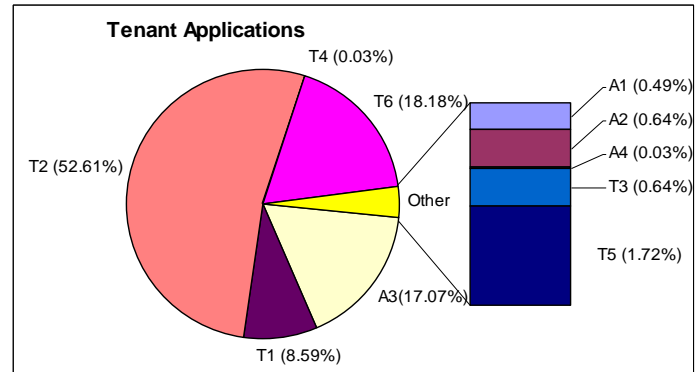

STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Applications By Type

Termination of tenancy and eviction applications continue to represent the bulk of the Board's workload. Of the total applications received by the Board, 69.3% were for termination of tenancy because of arrears of rent.

The following charts show the distribution of the Board's workload, by type of application for the 2009-2010 fiscal year.

STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Applications filed under the TPA

During the 2009-2010 fiscal year, in addition to its RTA workload, the Board continued to resolve applications that had been filed under the Tenant Protection Act, 1997 (the TPA), but remained unresolved on January 31, 2007 when the RTA was proclaimed. The TPA was the legislation in effect prior to the implementation of the RTA on January 31, 2007.

Transitional Rules

Applications filed under the TPA continue to be resolved pursuant to the TPA, but with regard to certain transitional rules brought in by the RTA. For example, the Board cannot issue a default order on a TPA application if it was not resolved by January 31, 2007. Also, a Member hearing a TPA eviction application is now required to review all the circumstances of the application under section 83 of the RTA and to always consider delaying or refusing to grant a tenant's eviction. This is different from the discretionary provision that existed under a similar provision (section 84) in the TPA.

Pending TPA Applications

At the beginning of this fiscal year, 66 TPA applications were still active. Between April 1, 2009 and March 31, 2010, the Board resolved 57 of those applications, leaving 9 TPA applications awaiting resolution. (The number of unresolved TPA applications may increase slightly as a party to a TPA application may, for example, still file a request to review a TPA order and this would be added to the TPA workload.)

STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Application Resolution

Over the past year, the Board has continued to resolve applications without creating a backlog, despite the challenge of implementing a new case management system. As of March 31, 2010, the number of unresolved RTA applications is 8,166. This number represents approximately five weeks' work at the Board, which is the workload appropriate to warrant smooth and continuous operation for the Board.

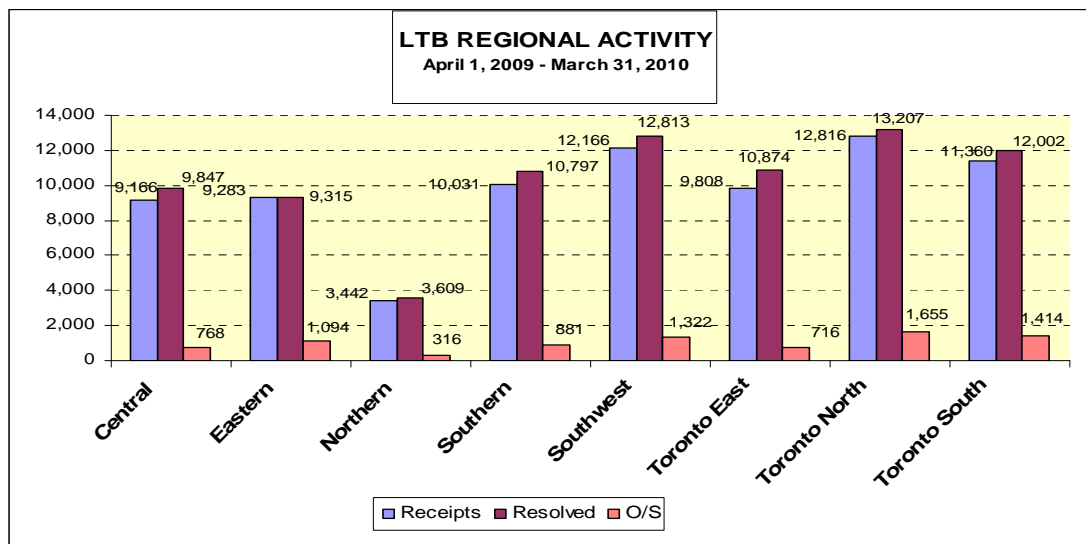

For the fiscal year 2009-2010, the Board received a total of 78,072 applications and resolved 82,464 applications. Some applications may generate more than one resolution because of the re-opening and review processes.

The following chart shows how application receipts and resolutions have remained relatively constant during the year.

Review and Appeal Statistics

Over the 2009-2010 fiscal year, the Board received 1,755 requests for review, of which approximately 63% were sent to a hearing.

Also during the 2009-2010 fiscal year, 200 Notices of Appeal of Board orders were received by the Board.

DECISION SUMMARIES

TNL-22811 (July 10, 2009) - s. 6(2)(a), exemption from some 'rent controls' - s. 126, above guideline increase in rent

The Landlord applied for an above guideline increase in rent. The rental unit is a condominium unit located in a complex that was first occupied on May 15, 2007. Section 6(2)(a) of the RTA states that a rental unit is exempt from certain rent control provisions if it has not been occupied for any purpose before June 17, 1998. The rental unit falls within this exemption.

While Landlords are still required to give a 90-day written notice (section 116) and can only increase the rent once every twelve months (section 119), the provisions of the RTA that would limit a rent increase to the guideline amount (section 120) or allow a rent increase above the guideline (section 126) do not apply. In this case, this meant that the landlord could increase the rent above the guideline without making an application to the LTB. The Landlord's application was dismissed.

SWL-28812 (August 19, 2009) - s. 48, Landlord's own use - s. 187(2), adding parties - joint landlords not acting in unison

FJ applied for an order terminating the tenancy for his own occupation. FJ owns half the property and the other half is owned by his mother, AJ. In a previous application against this Tenant, both were named as Landlords. As well, although only AJ signed the lease, the Member found there was an implied agreement between AJ and FJ that the property be rented out. Therefore AJ and FJ were Landlords as they both permitted occupancy of the unit. Accordingly, AJ was added as a party to the application.

At the hearing, AJ opposed FJ's application. The Member held that the Landlords must act in unison because, from the Tenant's point of view, they are a single entity. The Landlords' application was dismissed.

TST-02463 / TST-02741 (August 27, 2009) - s. 57, bad faith - s. 48(2), void notice

The Tenants moved out of the rental unit because the Landlord gave them an N12 notice claiming that the Landlord's daughter intended to move into the unit. The N12 was void because the termination date in the notice was not the last day of a rental period as required by subsection 48(2) of the RTA. The Tenants did not know that the notice was void and moved out by the termination date.

The Member determined that the Landlord's daughter did not move into the rental unit within a reasonable time, nor did she have any intention of doing so. The Landlord took the position that because the N12 was defective, the Tenants' T5 application should fail. The Landlord argued that a void notice could not have been given in bad faith as it was not in fact a notice.

The Member held that it was inconceivable that a Landlord could escape liability in a T5 because the N12 upon which it is based is void. Such a finding would mean that a Landlord could serve faulty notices in the hope that the Tenant would vacate, as the Member found happened here. Moreover, subsection 57(1) of the RTA makes no reference to valid or invalid notices. Even defective notices can be given in bad faith. The Landlord's preliminary motion to dismiss the application was therefore dismissed.

TNL-29278-SA (October 5, 2009) - s. 78(11)(b), not unfair to set aside order

The Landlord applied for an order to evict the Tenant because she failed to meet a condition specified in a previous order. The order was granted. The Tenant filed a motion to set it aside.

The Member found that there existed extenuating circumstances for the tenant's failure to meet a condition in the original order. The Tenant had deposited sufficient funds into her bank account to cover the August rent. The Tenant was not aware that her cash deposit on July 30 would be placed on hold pending verification of the funds. This resulted in the August rent cheque not being honoured by the bank, and the cheque was returned to the Landlord due to non-sufficient funds. Upon discovering that the Landlord had obtained an eviction order, the Tenant attended at the Landlord's office and paid the August rent by way of a bank draft.

In considering relief from eviction, the Member determined that she could only consider circumstances that have arisen since the original order was issued. The Tenant's previous persistently late rent payments or the fact that she had five children were not relevant. The Member was satisfied that the Tenant had made a genuine effort to ensure that sufficient funds were in her bank account to cover the August rent. As well, she had paid the September rent and at the hearing she committed to making future rent payments in guaranteed funds. Applying section 78(11)(b), the Member determined that it would not be unfair to grant the Tenant's motion to set aside the order.

TET-01161-09 (October 29, 2009) - s. 135, money collected illegally - smart meters, Electricity Act and Ontario Energy Board Act

The Tenant applied for an order determining that the Landlord has collected or retained money illegally.

The tenancy agreement provided that the Tenant is not responsible for electricity costs. Effective January 1, 2009 the condominium building installed smart meters in each of the units. The Landlord required the Tenant to pay the electricity charges and did not decrease the rent in exchange for the Tenant assuming responsibility for these payments.

The Tenant has paid the electricity provider $690 since the smart meter was installed, and his electricity was shut off several times due to non-payment of the electrical bill.

The Member determined that the Landlord has interfered with the supply of a vital service and interfered with the Tenant's enjoyment by failing to continue to pay the cost of electricity for the rental unit. The Tenant requested reimbursement of the costs and the Member so ordered.

The Member also observed that, although the Ontario Energy Board (OEB) Order EB-2009-0111 issued on August 13, 2009 is not binding on him, the Landlord is likely in contravention of the Electricity Act, 1998 and the Ontario Energy Board Act, 1998 because there was no evidence that the Landlord had complied with the stringent conditions for installing smart meters set out in the OEB Order. These conditions include obtaining a third-party energy audit and the written consent of the affected tenants.

SOL-25190 (November 10, 2009) - s. 62, undue damage to rental unit - Human Rights Code, duty to accommodate - s. 83, relief from eviction - s. 204, conditional order

The Landlord gave the Tenant an N5 notice for causing damage to the rental unit. The Tenant has caused damage to the ceiling of the rental unit below as a result of prolonged water leakage caused by the Tenant not making proper use of his shower curtain. In addition, the Tenant has a disability that causes urinary incontinence. The unit became unhygienic because of his incontinence and the smell of urine pervaded the building.

Citing Ball v. Metro Capital, the Tenant argued that the N5 notice was defective because it failed to set out sufficient details about the times and dates and conduct that led to the notice. The Member held that the issue is not whether there are dates and times but whether the N5 notice is descriptive enough for the Tenant to know the case to be met. The notice given by the Landlord described the problem with enough detail that the Tenant could have remedied the problem or disputed the notice.

The Member determined that the Tenant has a disability and therefore the Landlord has a duty to accommodate him in accordance with the Human Rights Code. However, applying Eskritt v. MacKay, the Member determined that accommodation is not relevant in a claim for damages even when the damages are related to a disability.

The Member made a conditional order allowing the tenancy to continue if the Tenant made payments of $50 a month until the damages are paid.

CET-01027-09 (November 25, 2009) - s. 6, Substitute Decisions Act - Public Guardian and Trustee

The Tenant filed an application claiming that the Landlord's actions in obtaining an ex parte order terminating the tenancy interfered with his reasonable enjoyment. Tenant's counsel argued that the Tenant has the capacity to give instructions to counsel and provide evidence, even though the Public Guardian and Trustee (PGT) had been appointed to manage the Tenant's property and related legal affairs.

First, the Member determined that the application relates to the Tenant's property because it involves termination of his tenancy. Second, the PGT is the only person authorized by law to deal with the Tenant's financial and related legal affairs. This decision was made after the Tenant's capacity was assessed and it was determined that he is incapable of managing his property pursuant to section 6 of the Substitute Decisions Act.

The Member held that she is not willing to proceed with the application without the involvement of the PGT or new evidence showing that the Tenant is legally capable of managing his property and related legal affairs. The Tenant's application was dismissed.

TSL-18156-RV (December 24, 2009) - s. 202, real substance - Rule 16, amend application

The Landlord applied to evict the Tenants because they did not pay the rent. The order was granted. A person directly affected by the order requested a review.

When the Tenant entered into the tenancy agreement, he used his sister's name instead of his own. The Landlord's L1 application named the sister and the order was issued against her. The sister was directly affected by the order because a lien was placed on her condominium as a result of the order. As she did not receive notice of the hearing, she did not have a reasonable opportunity to participate in the hearing. The review was granted.

The Member determined that the proper remedy would be to amend the application, and to vary the order to reflect the true names of the Tenants. The Tenant who used his sister's name will suffer no prejudice because he attended the hearing and consented to the order, and the Landlord will not have to initiate new proceedings to recover arrears of rent.

CET-02485 (January 19, 2010) - s. 20(1)(f), amending application - s. 20(1), duty to repair - s. 30, abatement of rent

The Tenants filed a T1 application after a fire broke out in the unit below and their unit was filled with dense smoke and soot. The Tenants had to vacate for about one month while their unit was being restored. The Tenants' insurance company arranged for the restoration of the Tenants' belongings, and the condo property management company arranged for the unit to be restored, but the Tenants also wanted an abatement of rent. The correct application to address the situation is a T6. At the hearing, the parties consented to amend the T1 application to a T6 application.

The Landlord argued that she was not responsible for the fire or the amount of time it took to restore the unit and therefore should not have to pay rent abatement. The Member noted that subsection 20(1) of the RTA does not contain a fault element. That means the reason for a landlord's breach is not relevant. The Member acknowledged there was no wrongdoing by the Landlord, but there was no dispute that the Tenants did not get what they paid for. They paid the full rent for the period of time they were unable to live in the unit. The Landlord, through no fault of her own, was unable to provide a rental unit that was in a good state of repair and fit for habitation and was therefore in breach of section 20.

The Member determined that the Tenants were entitled to a 90% rent abatement for the one month they could not live in the unit. The Tenants requested 100% but it was reduced in recognition of the services and facilities they continued to receive during the month they did not live in the unit.

CEL-22280 (January 20, 2010) - s. 2, "rent" - s. 59(3), notice void if rent paid

The tenancy agreement required the Tenant to pay the Landlord for utilities. The Tenant failed to pay for the utilities so the Landlord sent him a letter stating that any future rent payments will be applied toward the debt for utilities. When the Tenant failed to pay the next month's rent, the Landlord gave him an N4 notice of termination for non-payment of rent. The Tenant then paid the rent for that month.

The Landlord argued that his letter informing the Tenant of the Landlord's intended treatment of any monies paid gives him the authority to apply rent payments toward utilities first.

The Member held that the Landlord cannot unilaterally allocate the rent payment towards the utilities. There was no evidence that the Tenant had indicated to the Landlord that the payment was to be applied to anything other than rent. The amount of payment and the timing of payment were consistent with the Tenant's practice of paying the rent. As such, it was reasonable to conclude that the Tenant intended the payment to be rent, and therefore the N4 notice had been voided by the Tenant's payment. The Landlord's application was dismissed.

TEL-27316-RV (February 18, 2010) - s. 2, landlord - s. 48, good faith - s. 168 & 174, exclusive jurisdiction

The Landlord applied to evict the Tenant because the Landlord wants the rental unit for his own use. A previous similar L2 application had been dismissed because the Member determined that the Landlord did not genuinely intend to occupy the rental unit. In the second application, the Member concluded that the Landlord's circumstances had changed significantly since the previous application, and granted the application.

On review, the Tenant argued that: 1) the Landlord did not meet the definition of "landlord" in s. 2 of the RTA; 2) the Landlord lacked good faith; 3) the Board had no jurisdiction to hear the application because of pending litigation about the property in the Superior Court.

On the first ground of review, the Review Member noted that the Board had found in the previous application that the Landlord did meet the definition of "landlord" in the RTA. Neither party reviewed or appealed that order. As well, the Landlord had previously filed an L1 application which ordered that the Tenant be evicted (subject to his right to void the order). In addition, the Landlord issues rent receipts to the Tenant and pays the mortgage, home insurance and maintenance costs for the residential complex. The Landlord also met the definition of "landlord" in his role as the personal representative of the Estate of his father who previously owned the property.

On the second ground of review, the Review Member agreed with the first Member that the Landlord had experienced a significant change in circumstances and that he genuinely intends to occupy the complex for his own use.

On the third ground of review, the Review Member considered sections 168 and 174 of the RTA and determined that, given the undisputed existence of a landlord and tenant relationship in this matter, the Board clearly has jurisdiction over the application despite the pending estate litigation.

The Tenant has filed an application for judicial review of the Board's review decision.

SWL-29357-SA (February 23, 2010) - s. 78, no breach of mediated agreement

The Landlord obtained an order under s. 78 of the RTA that evicted the Tenants for breaching the mediated settlement. The sole issue at the set aside hearing was whether the Tenants had paid $100 on or before October 15, 2009, as required by the mediated settlement. The Tenants claimed that they made the payment early on October 1, 2009 and produced a receipt from the Landlord in that regard. The Landlord claimed that the receipted payment was for the September 15, 2009 which the Tenants had made late. The Tenants did not have a receipt for the September 15, 2009 payment but claimed they made it to the on-site superintendent.

The Landlord was given an opportunity to call the superintendent as a witness either at the hearing or have the matter adjourned so that the witness could attend. The Landlord declined those opportunities. The Member found the Tenant's testimony on this point was forthright, direct and credible. The Member determined that no money was in arrears under the mediated agreement and allowed the Tenants' motion to set aside the eviction order. The Landlord's L4 was dismissed.
